

I am opposed to allowing the Consumer Bankers Association (CBA) to challenge Indiana's Telephone Privacy law in a proceeding before the Federal Communications Commission (FCC). The CBA is attempting to impose the federal "established business relationship" exemption on Indiana consumers.

Over an eighteen month period, their calls could translate to over 800,000,000 more unwanted phone calls to Indiana residents.

I support the Indiana Attorney General in fighting this battle with every legal resource available.

Indiana has a very strong Telephone Privacy Law that has been very successful and well received by residents of the state. I do not think that is in the best interest to weaken this law.

Please consider the potential impact to Indiana residents and decline the CBA request. Thank you for taking the time to read this and your consideration.
